"Laura Risk's fiddle is a revelation and achingly beautiful."

-Ken Burns, Grammy-winning filmmaker

At our standing room only Durham house concert last year, Laura Risk and Paddy League showed that they can dazzle and delight an audience. It also showed us that you wanted to hear lots more. We've got great news. We are bringing them back to a larger venue so that we won't have to turn anyone away.

Californian Laura Risk began playing Scottish fiddle music as a teenager. Her style is expressive and versatile, ranging from elegant music composed for 18th Century Scottish drawing rooms to driving strathspeys and reels suitable for a Cape Breton dance floor.

Paddy League is a widely acclaimed performer of Irish music. An extremely versatile multi-instrumentalist he is at home on the guitar, mandolin, bouzouki and concertina.

The substantial combined talents of these two performers in the intimate setting of a house concert will make for a brilliant musical evening. We hope to see you all there.
